Purpose of the Staff

Caerulea is presenting by word and picture a record of student life at Poly High.

Once again the challenge of adventure is awakened. With courageous and dauntless heart the crew of our Ship of State sets forth upon the course for 1950. Plans are made, courses are chosen--all with a certain destination in mind. Every member of the crew stands by to give his pull on the rope at the word of command.

Gradually we learn to venture forth, to fortify our Ship of State, to gauge the weather, and to follow the compass.

Our first report to you contains many pictures of interest and beauty for which California is noted. It is our hope that these pictures will promote a better understanding and a finer appreciation of the Golden State in which we live.

We hope you like our spirit of California, our centurian, who wanders in and out through many pages.

We have enjoyed working together on this yearbook, and hope you will spend many happy moments looking through the pages of your 1950 Caerulea.

The Staff

Thou, too, sail on, O Ship of State!
Sail on, O Union, strong and great!
Humanity with all its fears,
With all the hopes of future years,
Is hanging breathless on thy fate!

We Californians are proud of our colorful history. It is an amazing story of a land of perennial spring and boundless fertility. The Gold Rush made the state symbolic of a promised land of plenty. A hundred years ago thousands traveled from all parts of the world to seek their fortunes in this paradise. These sturdy and courageous people were the builders of the foundation of our great state.

Life in California a hundred years ago had its sunlight and shadow, but it was an abundant life of fascinating experiences. In this fast moving drama, there was tragedy as well as comedy, hopes and disappointments. Here we see life lived for a few brief years without the restraint of civilization. Democracy in its true sense flourished in our Golden State of the west and left behind a record of accomplishment that will never be blotted from American history.

The glamour of the past has given way to the stern demands of today's economy. Our California, the thirty-first state, has a glorious destiny in the centuries ahead. And to this destiny, spirit of adventure, and progress that has made possible the California of today, we dedicate this 1950 Cae-rulea.

Foreword

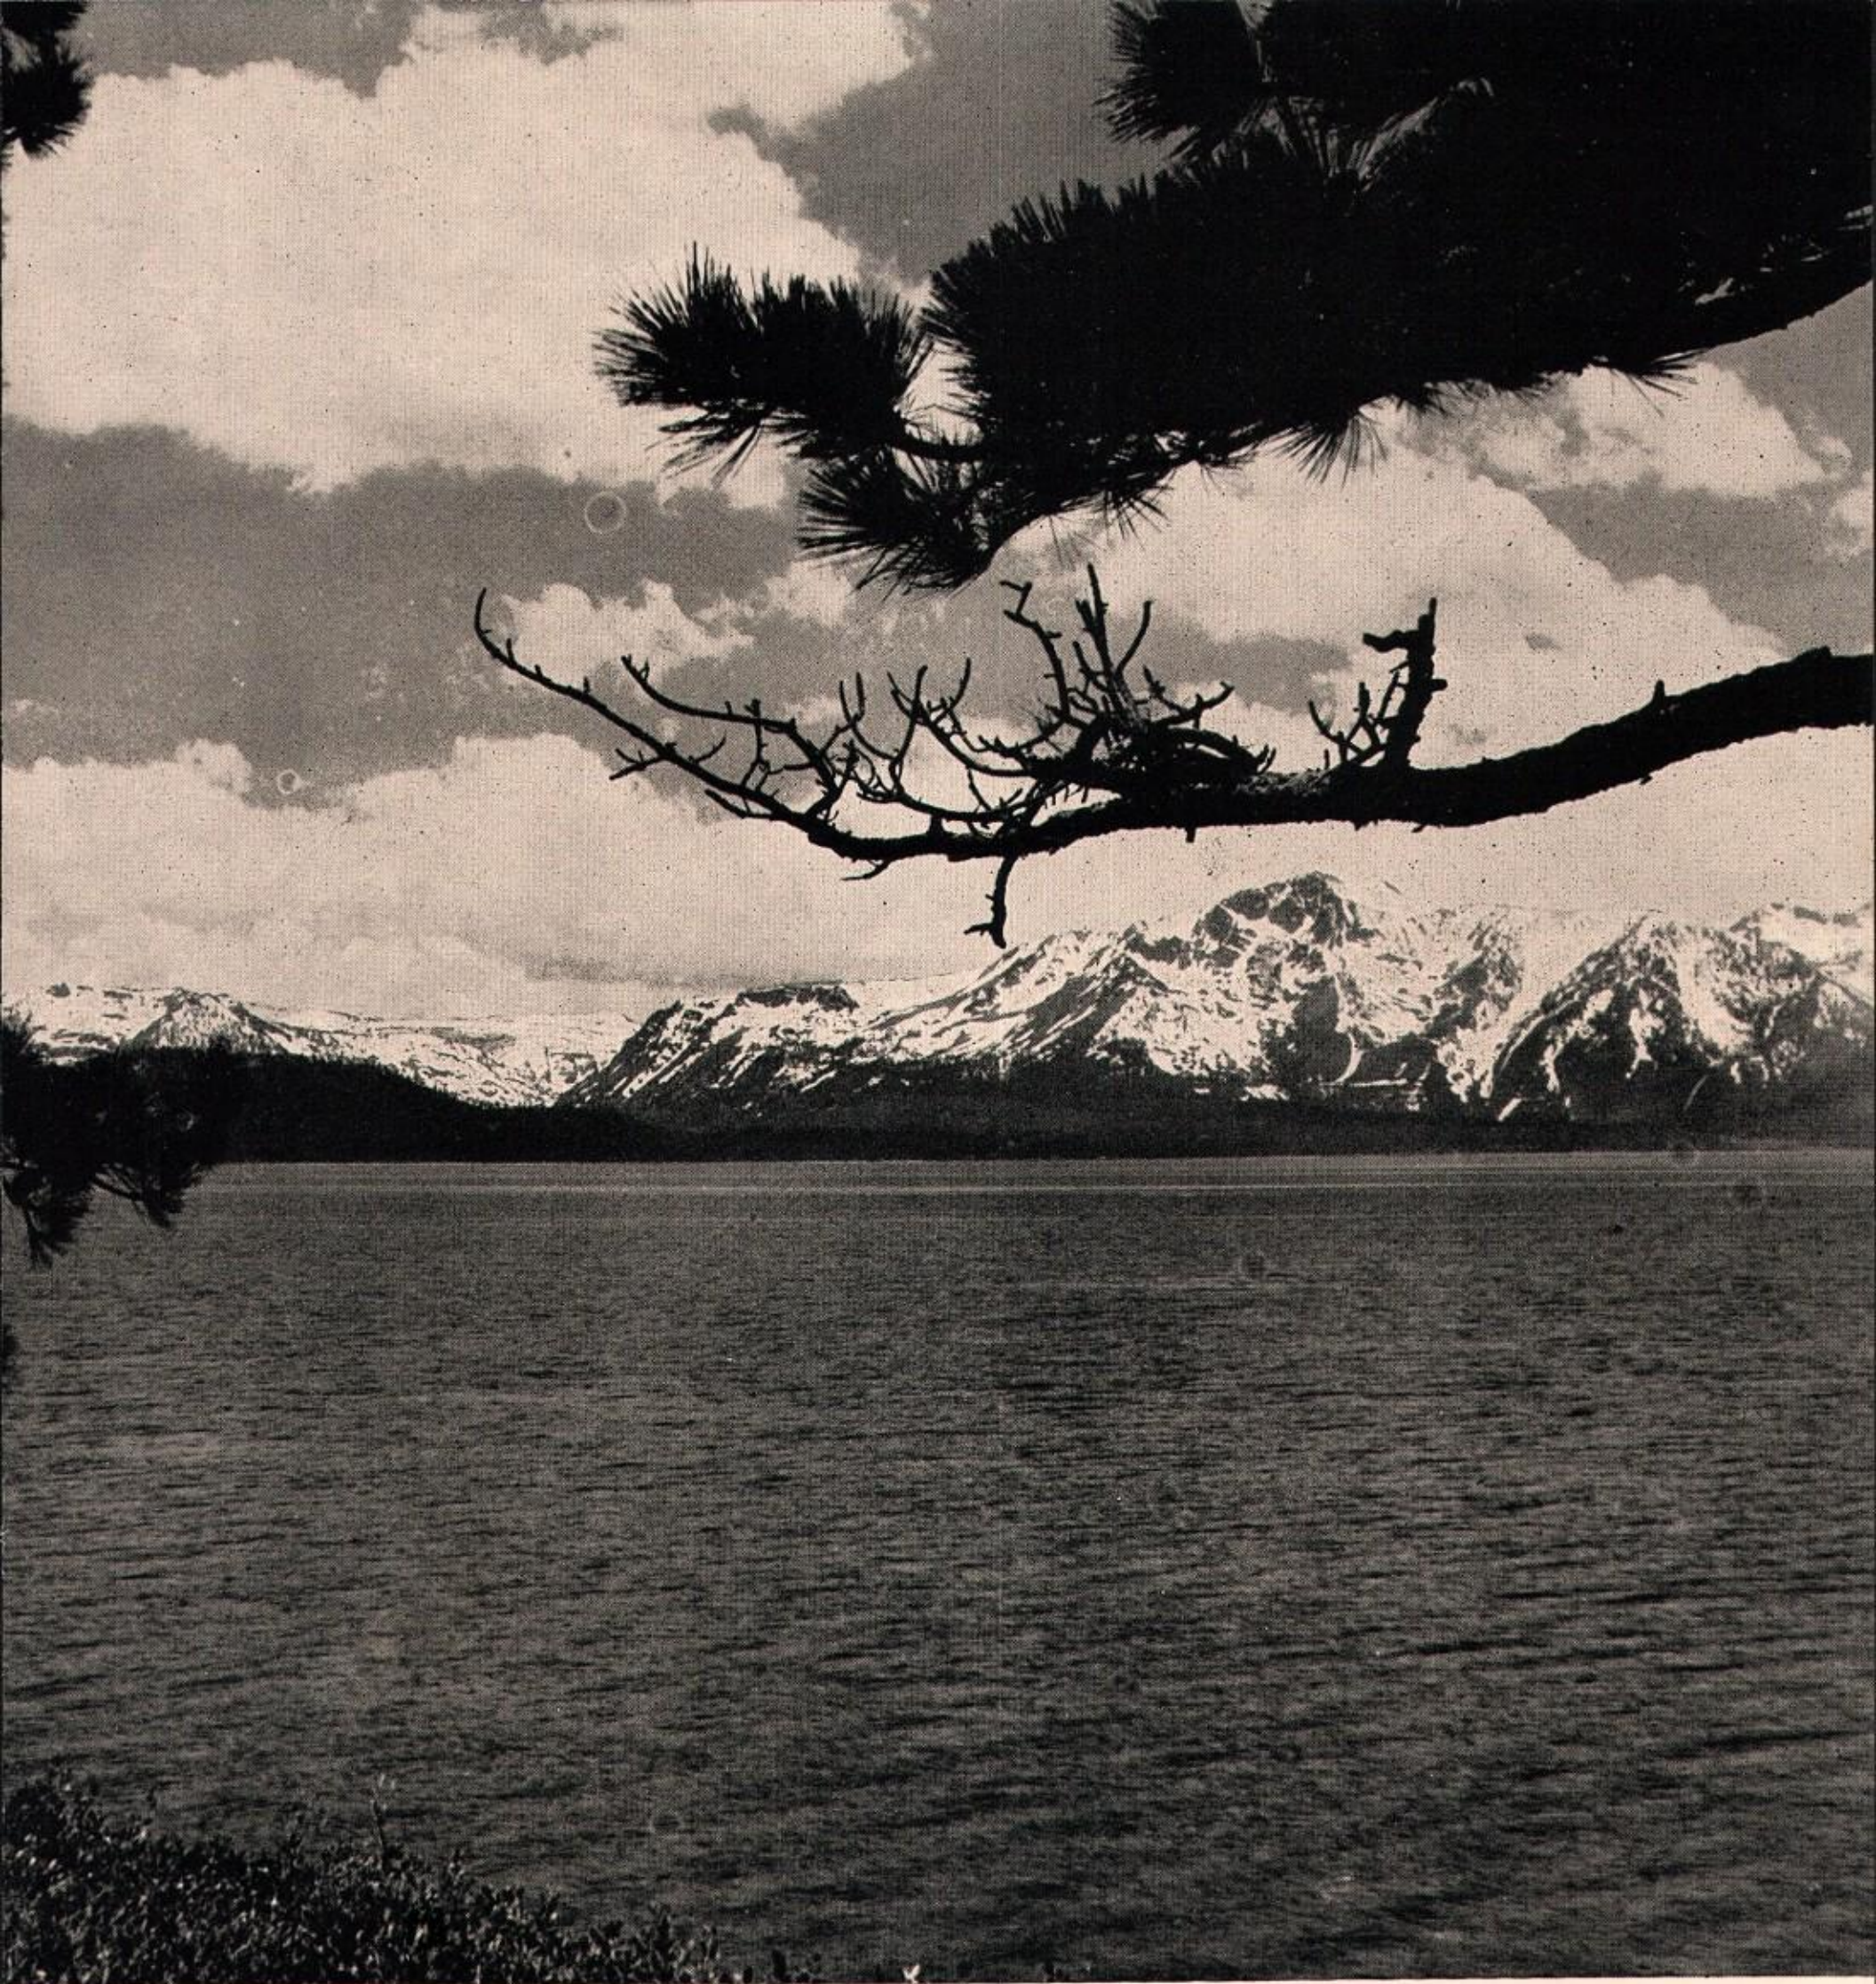

The destiny of California depends on the leadership of our Ship of State. It depends upon leaders who make fair and just laws and who realize the value of education.

We are very grateful to our teachers and counselors who day after day have so patiently endeavored to help and guide us along our course. It is while we are here at Poly that each of us is developing into an individual personality. Here we learn to work shoulder to shoulder so that we may weather life's storms. Here we learn to think for ourselves, to lead, to follow, and to love and stand for the fundamentals of democracy which will ensure to us a course that is clear and true. Each of us, no matter what his abilities or interests, is a part of the crew of our ship of state.

We hope our yearbook reflects a warm and friendly spirit, and it is with a twinge of sadness that we set our sails, sealing within a part of ourselves as we follow the course to the journey's end.

Administration

Teachers and administrators are very important in the crew of our Ship of State. From the day of our entrance until graduation they guide our faltering steps up the rigging to higher learning, hoping that each rung we climb we will become more confident and secure.

They teach us to be wise, to anchor our ship of state upon a firm foundation, a foundation of courage and strength. They challenge us to prepare for the greater tasks that lie ahead.

May we never fail our superior officers as we perform the duties of our rank.

His Message

If we are to be imbued with the spirit of California we need to understand both its history and its geography. In the past they have been related. California's future and its geography are likewise inseparable.

A map of California might well have a place in every office and home of those who would like to make the most of living in this great state. We need to be reminded of the resources in its mountains, desert and ocean waters. We need the inspiration which comes from the knowledge of its infinite varieties. The cold peaks where the snow never melts, the hot desert where the rain seldom falls, and the rolling hills and plains with all their varieties of temperature make this state as variable as any empire in all the world.

In these vast reaches of terrain and degrees of climate are resources to challenge the creative genius of its people. Here are opportunities in nearly all fields of human endeavor—religion, education, social service, the arts, science, business, commerce, industry and agriculture. California is still the Golden State, the state of unlimited opportunities. The extent of California's possibilities for wealth, leadership and happiness are bounded, not by Mexico on the south, Oregon on the north, Arizona and Nevada on the east and the ocean on the west, but by human resources. Our knowledge, skills, courage, perseverance and vision can yet discover wealth and opportunities as far beyond the greatness of today as today exceeds the days of '49.

School Life

It has been a stirring voyage from the first moment we climbed aboard and began learning the intricacies of efficiently sailing our Ship of State. Our crew is a band of youth learning to govern themselves. New desires awakening, unexplored worlds unfolding from the pages of books, our minds gathering knowledge, eagerly learning to sacrifice and smiling at defeat. We are preparing ourselves to meet new challenges while our craft steadily glides along driven by the ever relentless wind of determination to gain a firm foundation.

This group does much of the photography for the yearbook which in itself is a great task and requires much patience and skill. A great deal of praise and thanks goes to this dependable group, for without them it would be impossible to have a school annual at such a low cost.

Chapter Twenty-Two

Hard Work Proves Worthwhile!

Our members stand out as strong leaders and superior students. Eligibility for membership in this organization is based on the number of points earned. The members work their way through high school doing their work well and adhering to the rules of good citizenship. The big event of the year is the Scholarship Banquet when the seal bearers are honored. Other events which the Scholarship Society looks forward to are the Southern Regional Convention and Ditch Day, which is usually an excursion to some place of interest for enjoyment.

The advisors of this organization are Mr. Dull, Mr. White, Mr. Tracy, and Miss Norton.

Outstanding Students Are Presented

Seal Bearers

The California Scholarship Federation confers upon qualified seniors the lamp pin in recognition of their accomplishments in the field of scholarship. This award gives them life membership in the California Scholarship Federation. These sealbearers also receive the honor of having the Federation Chapter seal placed upon their diplomas.

SEAL BEARERS—ROW I: Brenner, Browne, Downing, Ferreira, Geary, Gear. ROW II: Gibson, Hall, Hayes, F. Holden, J. Holden, Honer, Just. ROW III: Kroll, Marr, Mason, Matsumoto, Pettijohn, Phillips, Pillsbury. ROW IV: Reece, Rice, Simpson, St. Laurent, Taves, Thompson, Warren.

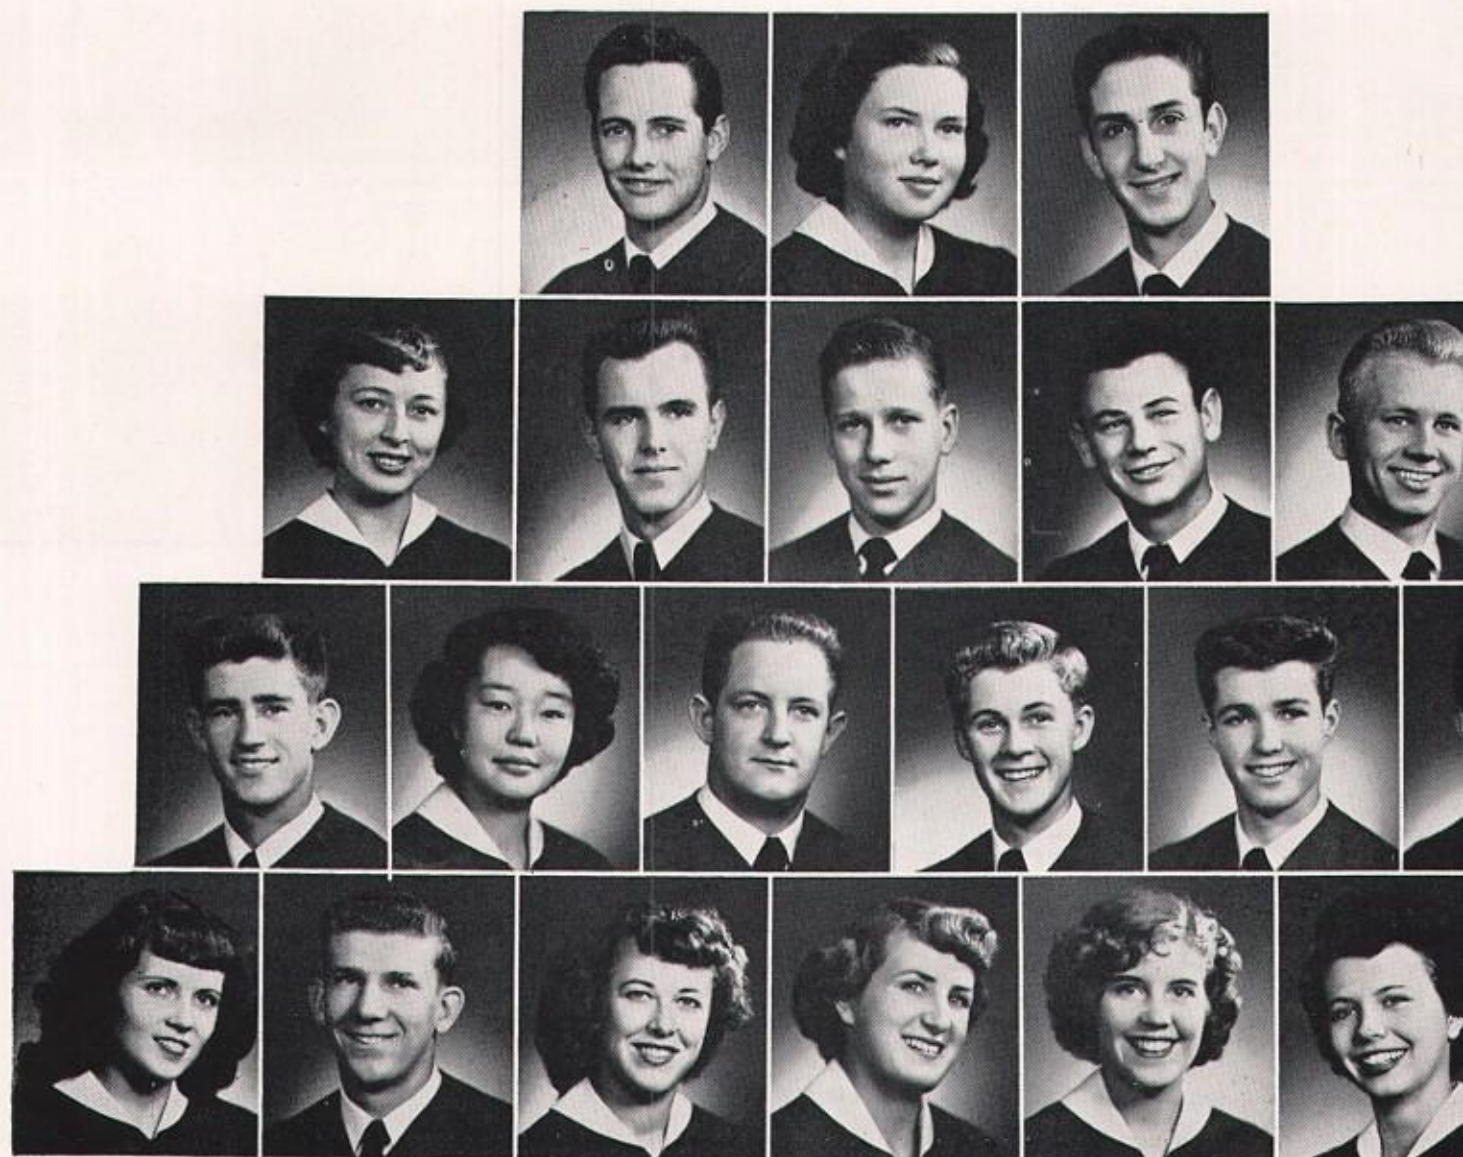

With Honors and Awards

Gold L Nominees

This year 21 Poly students have earned Gold L's. These awards were earned by outstanding achievements in three fields, scholarship, athletics, and general service to the school. Poly is proud of her Gold L winners. Here we find our school's leaders and workers. Their enthusiasm and resourcefulness has done much to make our student body outstanding.

FLAG GIRLS—Nancy Scanlan, Joanne Pagones, Donna Decker, Pat Giffin.

Flag Swingers and Drill Team

Five lovely, prancing flag swingers helped to make our games attractive as well as exciting, and together with the drill team in their snappy uniforms, there was perfect precision and unison.

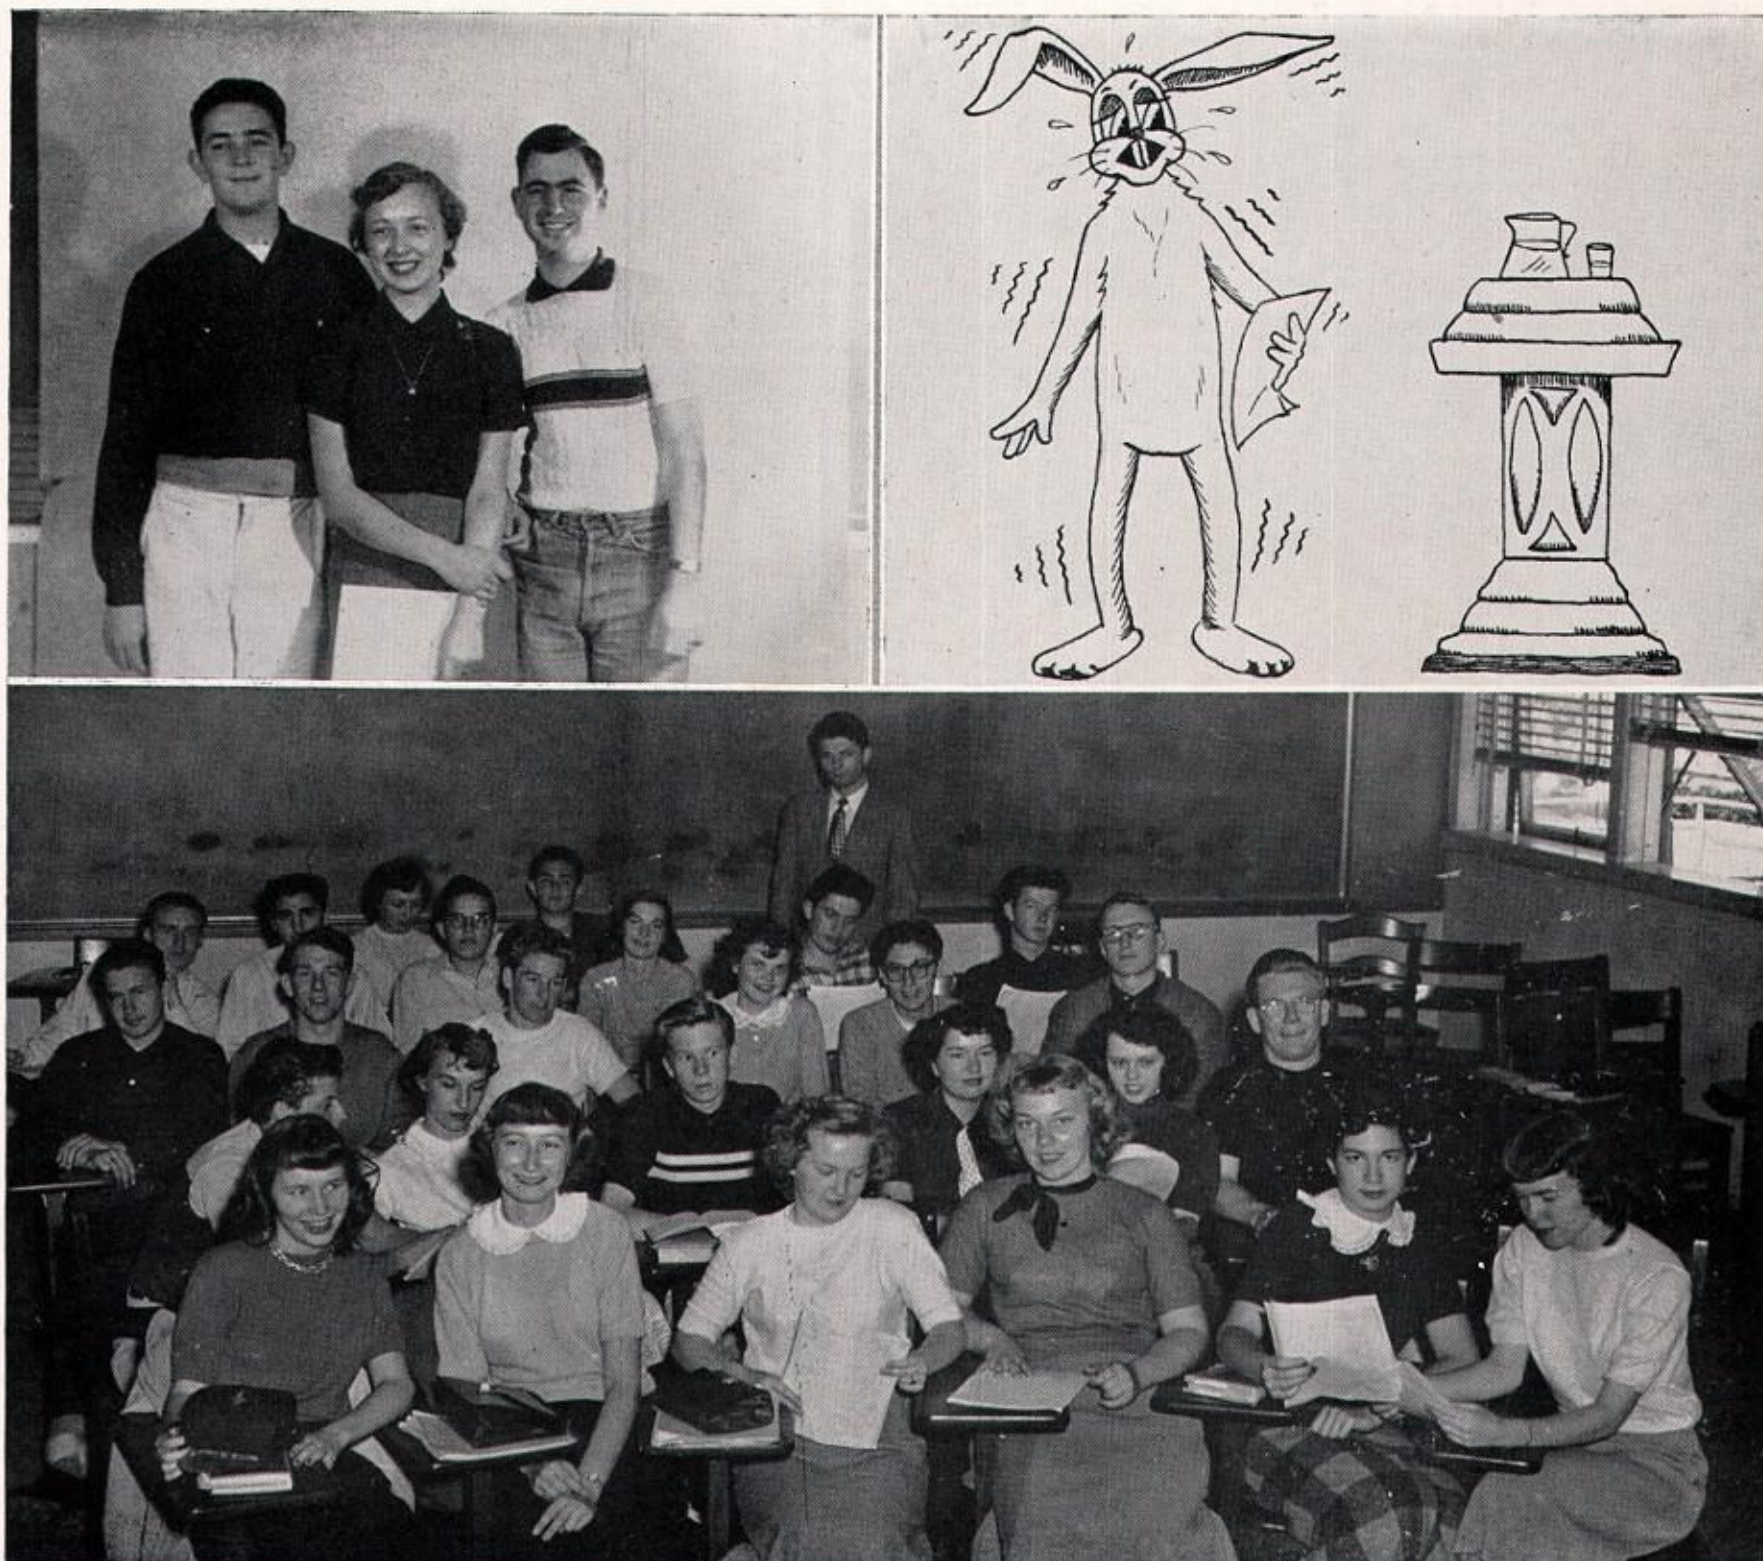

YELL LEADERS—Gregory Grunest, Kaye Holden, Jim Clark, Tommy Johnson, Ronnie Wilson.

SONG LEADERS—Joan Smith, Marilyn Williams, Marvel DeConnick, Mary Ashcraft, Jeanne Brown, Joan Rich, Bonnie Timboe.

Song Leaders and Yell Leaders

Poly's song leaders and yell leaders swing to the rhythm of "Poly High". They bring to every game the spirit and enthusiasm of the student body.

Comedy With That Professional Touch

Senior Play

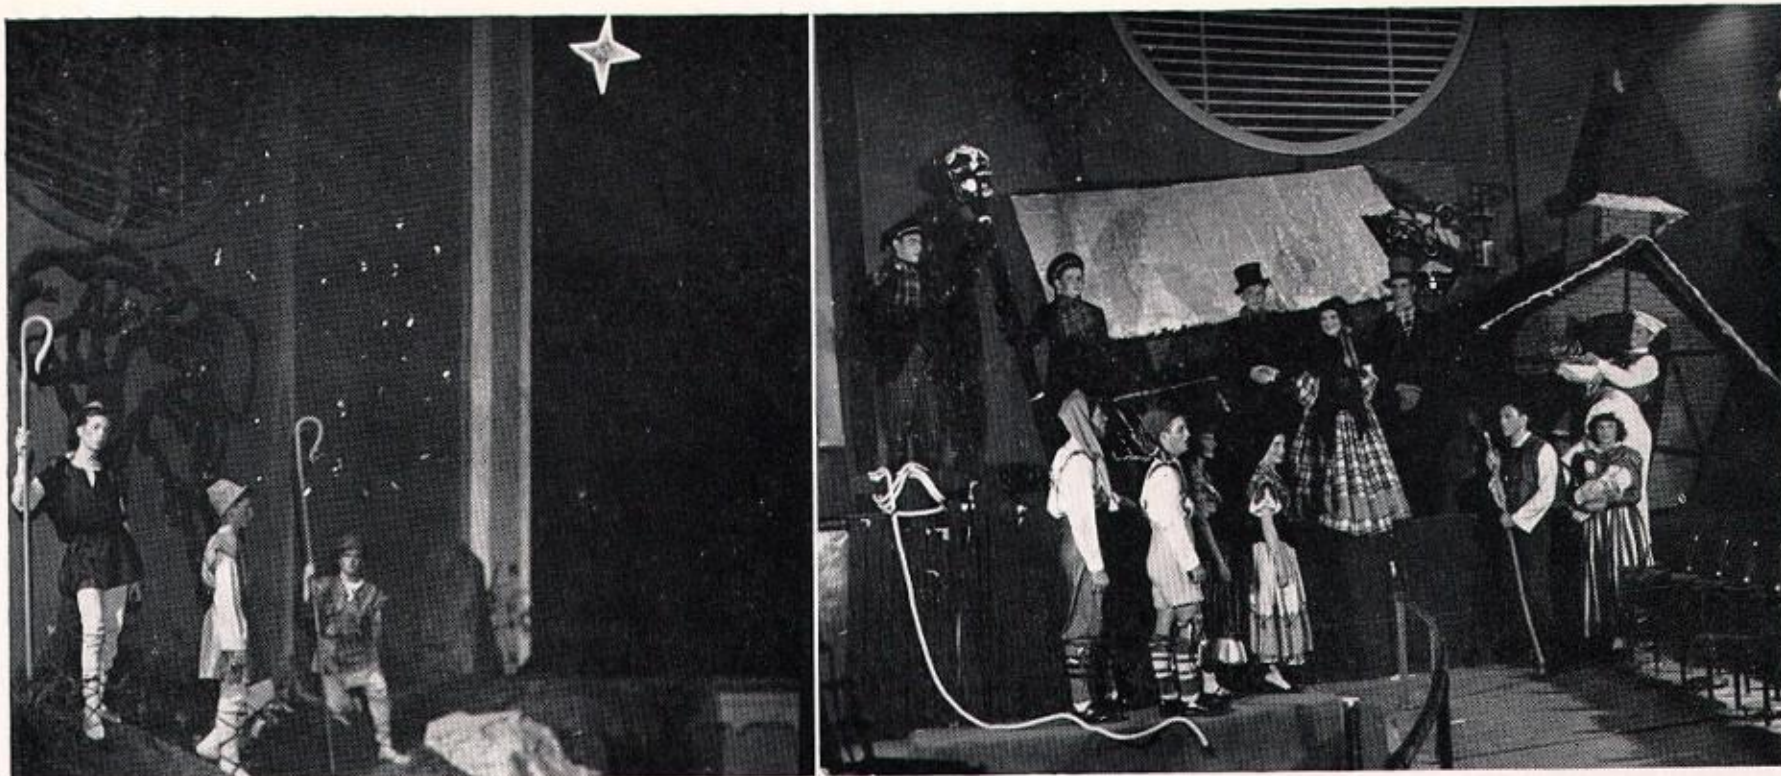

Clarence Day's play "Life With Father" was presented by Masque and Sandal this year. The outstanding performance was under the excellent training of Miss Breed. With Bob Chaffee as father and the wonderful backing of the cast, this play was one of the most delightful comedies ever performed at Poly. Other cast members were Donna Halstead, Jean Holden, Eddie Reed, Gustav Kroll, Johnny Kelly, Keats Tyler, Jerry McCracken, Mary Giuliany, Margie Merrill, Donna Welshans, Janet Johnson, Milton Kohut, David Levy, Dennis Anderson, Yvonne Broman, Phyllis Lustig, Nancy Kelly, Alice Miller, and Pat Giffin.

Christmas Concert

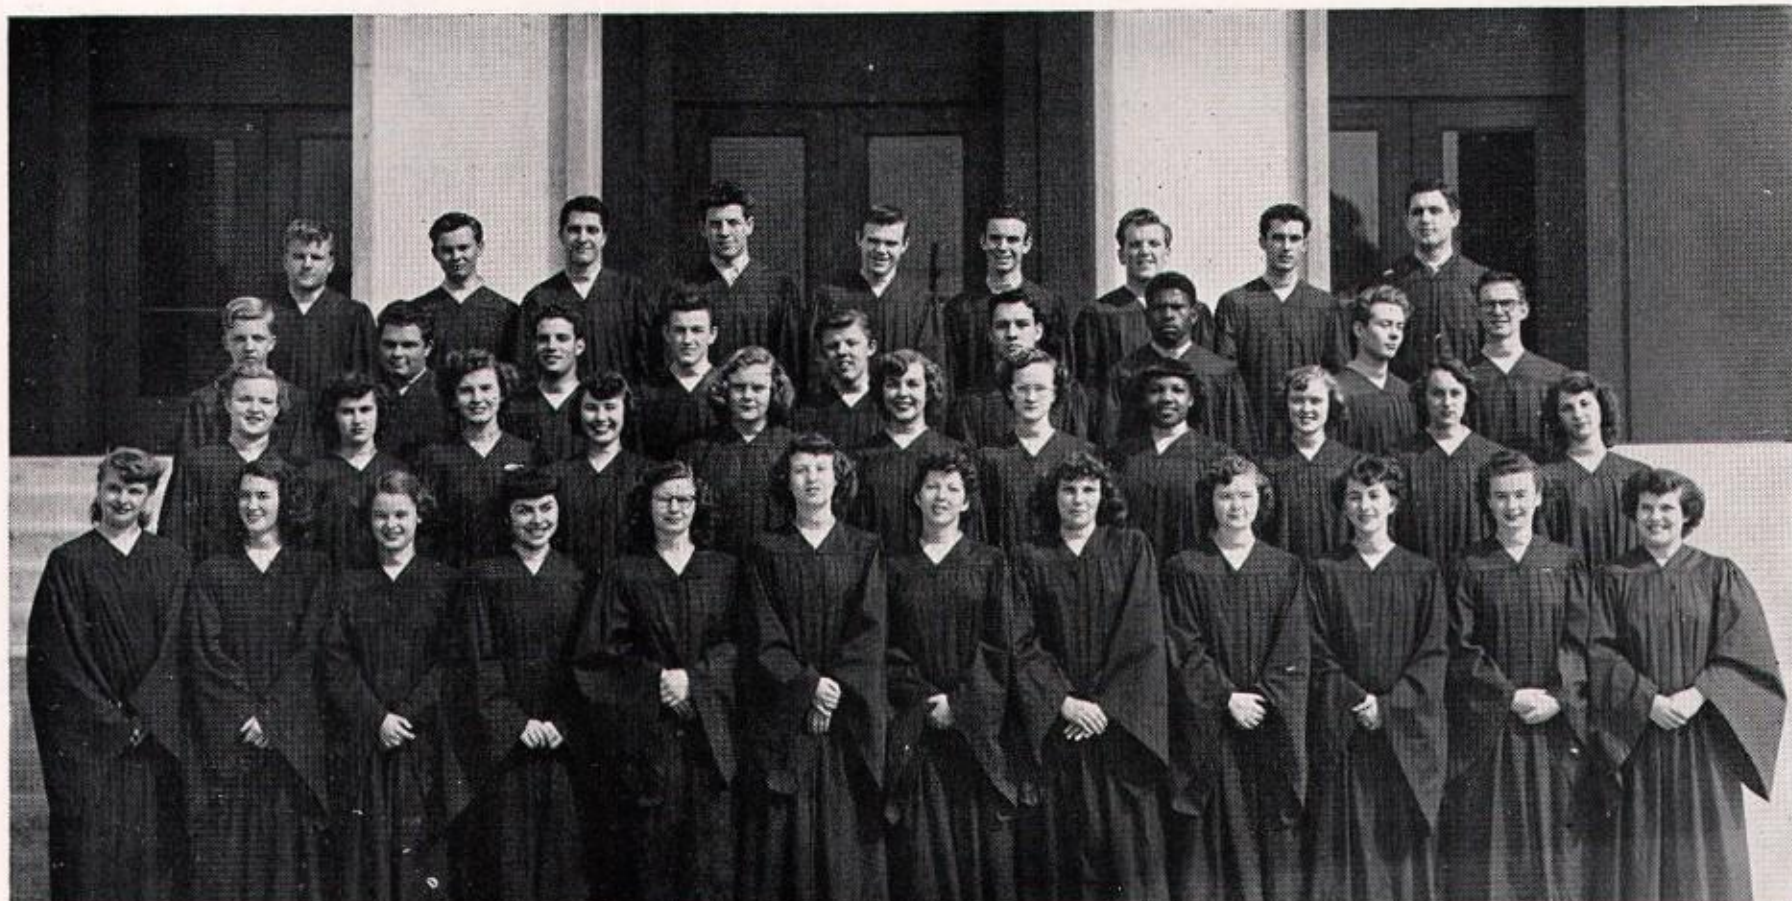

As the last faint notes of Silent Night died away, another beautiful Christmas Concert drew to a close. The moving beauty of the theme "Love Came Down At Christmas" was truly spectacular. Soft lights and the blending of voices brought nearer to every heart the true spirit of Christmas. The stage decorations and visualizations were awe-inspiring. They created a picture that will stand high in the memories of all who saw the 1949 Christmas Concert.

Athletics

On board ourcraft we experience the excitement of competition. Teamwork—individualism merged into cooperation . . . this is sports. Here we join in friendly battle, each doing his best for the honor of Poly. Fair play is king. † is education in sportsmanship, the rules for the game of life . . . teamwork.

Balboa---A playground for sailing and yachting the year 'round

"Pígskín Review"

The 1949 edition of the Poly Jackrabbit football squad was one of the finest teams this school has had in the past ten years. By the slim margin of one point, Coach "Red" Montgomery's Hares missed a chance to enter the vaunted CIF play-offs, and a chance for Southern California CIF football championship.

Poly had a good representation on the CIF squad as they placed halfback George Van Zant on the second string and Gerry Charlton at guard on the third string.

The Jackrabbits dominated the all-league selections by placing seven men on the first two teams. George Van Zant, Bill Bena and Gerry Charlton were the first string selections, while end Knox Tiernan, guards Adam Edwards and Don Bush were selected on the second team. Dave Levy, Jim Bachar, Joe Duhem and Gary Griffin were given honorable mention by the selectors.

Once again, the Hares paced the selection of the all-city team by placing Jim Bachar, Adam Edwards, Don Bush, Dave Levy, George Van Zant, Joe Duhem and Bill Bena on the first team. Knox Tiernan and Gerry Charlton were named to the second string.

Although hampered by injuries throughout the season, the Jackrabbits still presented a team of which the Poly students could well be proud. The injury jinx hit the Jackrabbits before the season started when Gary Griffin, two year letterman contracted polio and was out of play until late in the season. Gil Tyner, starting center, broke his collar bone the day before the Santa Ana game and Doug Ryan, first string guard, suffered a shoulder separation in the Alhambra game. Dave Levy, veteran tackle, broke his arm in practice and missed the important games with Mark Keppel and Wilson. Knox Tiernan, first string end, suffered a brain concussion in the Keppel game and missed the final game of the year with Wilson.

Slow Starters

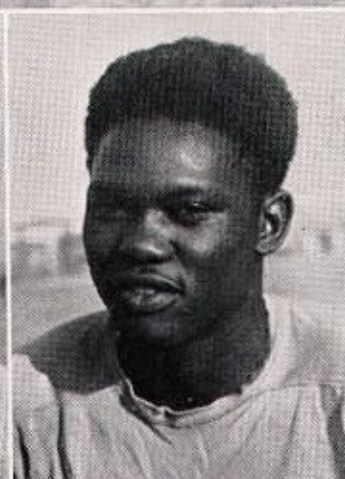

Opening the 1949 season, Coach "Red" Montgomery's highly touted Jackrabbits met the defending champions of the Sunset League, mighty Santa Ana. The Hares were unable to cope with the brilliant passing attack presented by the Saints and fell to Santa Ana 12-6. Joe Duhem's 51-yard jaunt through guard in the third quarter was the highlight of the game for the Jackrabbits.

Panthers Tamed

After a scoreless first half, the Hares, led by big George Van Zant, moved past the Panthers to the tune 12-0 for their first win of the season. In the second half it was all Poly as Van Zant scored twice in the final minutes on a long run and an intercepted pass.

Pilots Grounded

Failing to be impressed by a supposedly powerful Excelsior team, the Jackrabbits opened their league season against the Pilots. The tricky running of Joe Duhem, the power plays off tackle by George Van Zant, and the brilliant defensive play of Bill Bena and Gerry Charlton were all keynotes in the Hares play. When the final gun went off ending the game, the score read, Poly 25-Excelsior 13.

"Fumble-itis!"

Despite the fact that the Hares gained almost at will between the 20-yard lines, they were unable to maintain any goalward drives because of costly fumbles and the game ended in a scoreless deadlock. Key injuries also hampered the Rabbits and prevented them from displaying their usual powerful attack.

The Perfect Hosts

Paced by the powerful running of Bill Bena and George Van Zant, the Hares tallied their first touchdown minutes after the game began and scored again early in the fourth quarter. For the first time, the Hares broke out in a passing attack featuring Stuart Farber and Van Zant which was responsible for the second touchdown.

Oilers Hit Rock

With George Van Zant leading the way with his long runs, the Hares rolled to a decisive 37-6 victory over hapless Montebello. This game also saw the return to action of veteran Gary Griffin, who contacted Polio during the summer but returned to the game in brilliant fashion, as he threw a conversion pass to Jim Bachar for the Hares' 37th point.

"Heartbreaker"

The battle of the CIF season took place at Alhambra on the night of November 10 and the eventual winner of the Pacific League, Mark Keppel High of Alhambra, emerged victorious in a game which was packed with thrills from start to finish. After leading throughout the game, the Hares were forced to come from behind in the last minute of play to make the score 20-21. The attempted conversion was blocked and with the blocked pass went the Hares' chances for a bid to the CIF play-offs.

"Revenge Is Sweet"

Another season came to a close November 10 when the mighty Poly Jackrabbits battled the Wilson Bruins before 10,000 rabid fans and downed the winless Bruins 31-7. Gary Griffin paced the Rabbits as he returned to the lineup and scored the second touchdown for the Hares. It was truly a team victory as every member of the team turned in a sparkling performance.

The 1949 Junior Varsity football team was one of the highest scoring gridiron squads the school has ever seen. The high point of the season came when the mighty Hares swamped the hapless Lions from El Monte, 45-6.

Then came the El Monte slaughter and finally in the game which was supposed to determine the league championship, the junior Jackrabbits ran over the unbeaten Aztecs from Mark Keppel 33-0

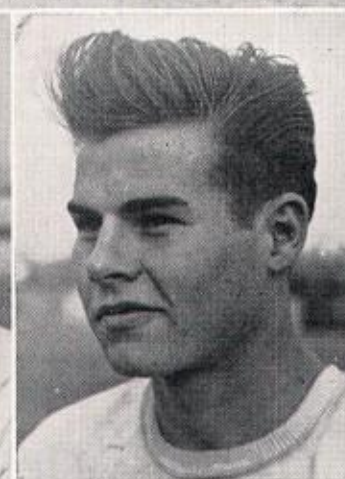

In the final tilt of the 1949 grid season, Coach Joe Kielb's Hares swamped their cross-town rivals from Wilson 33-7.

Varsity Basketball

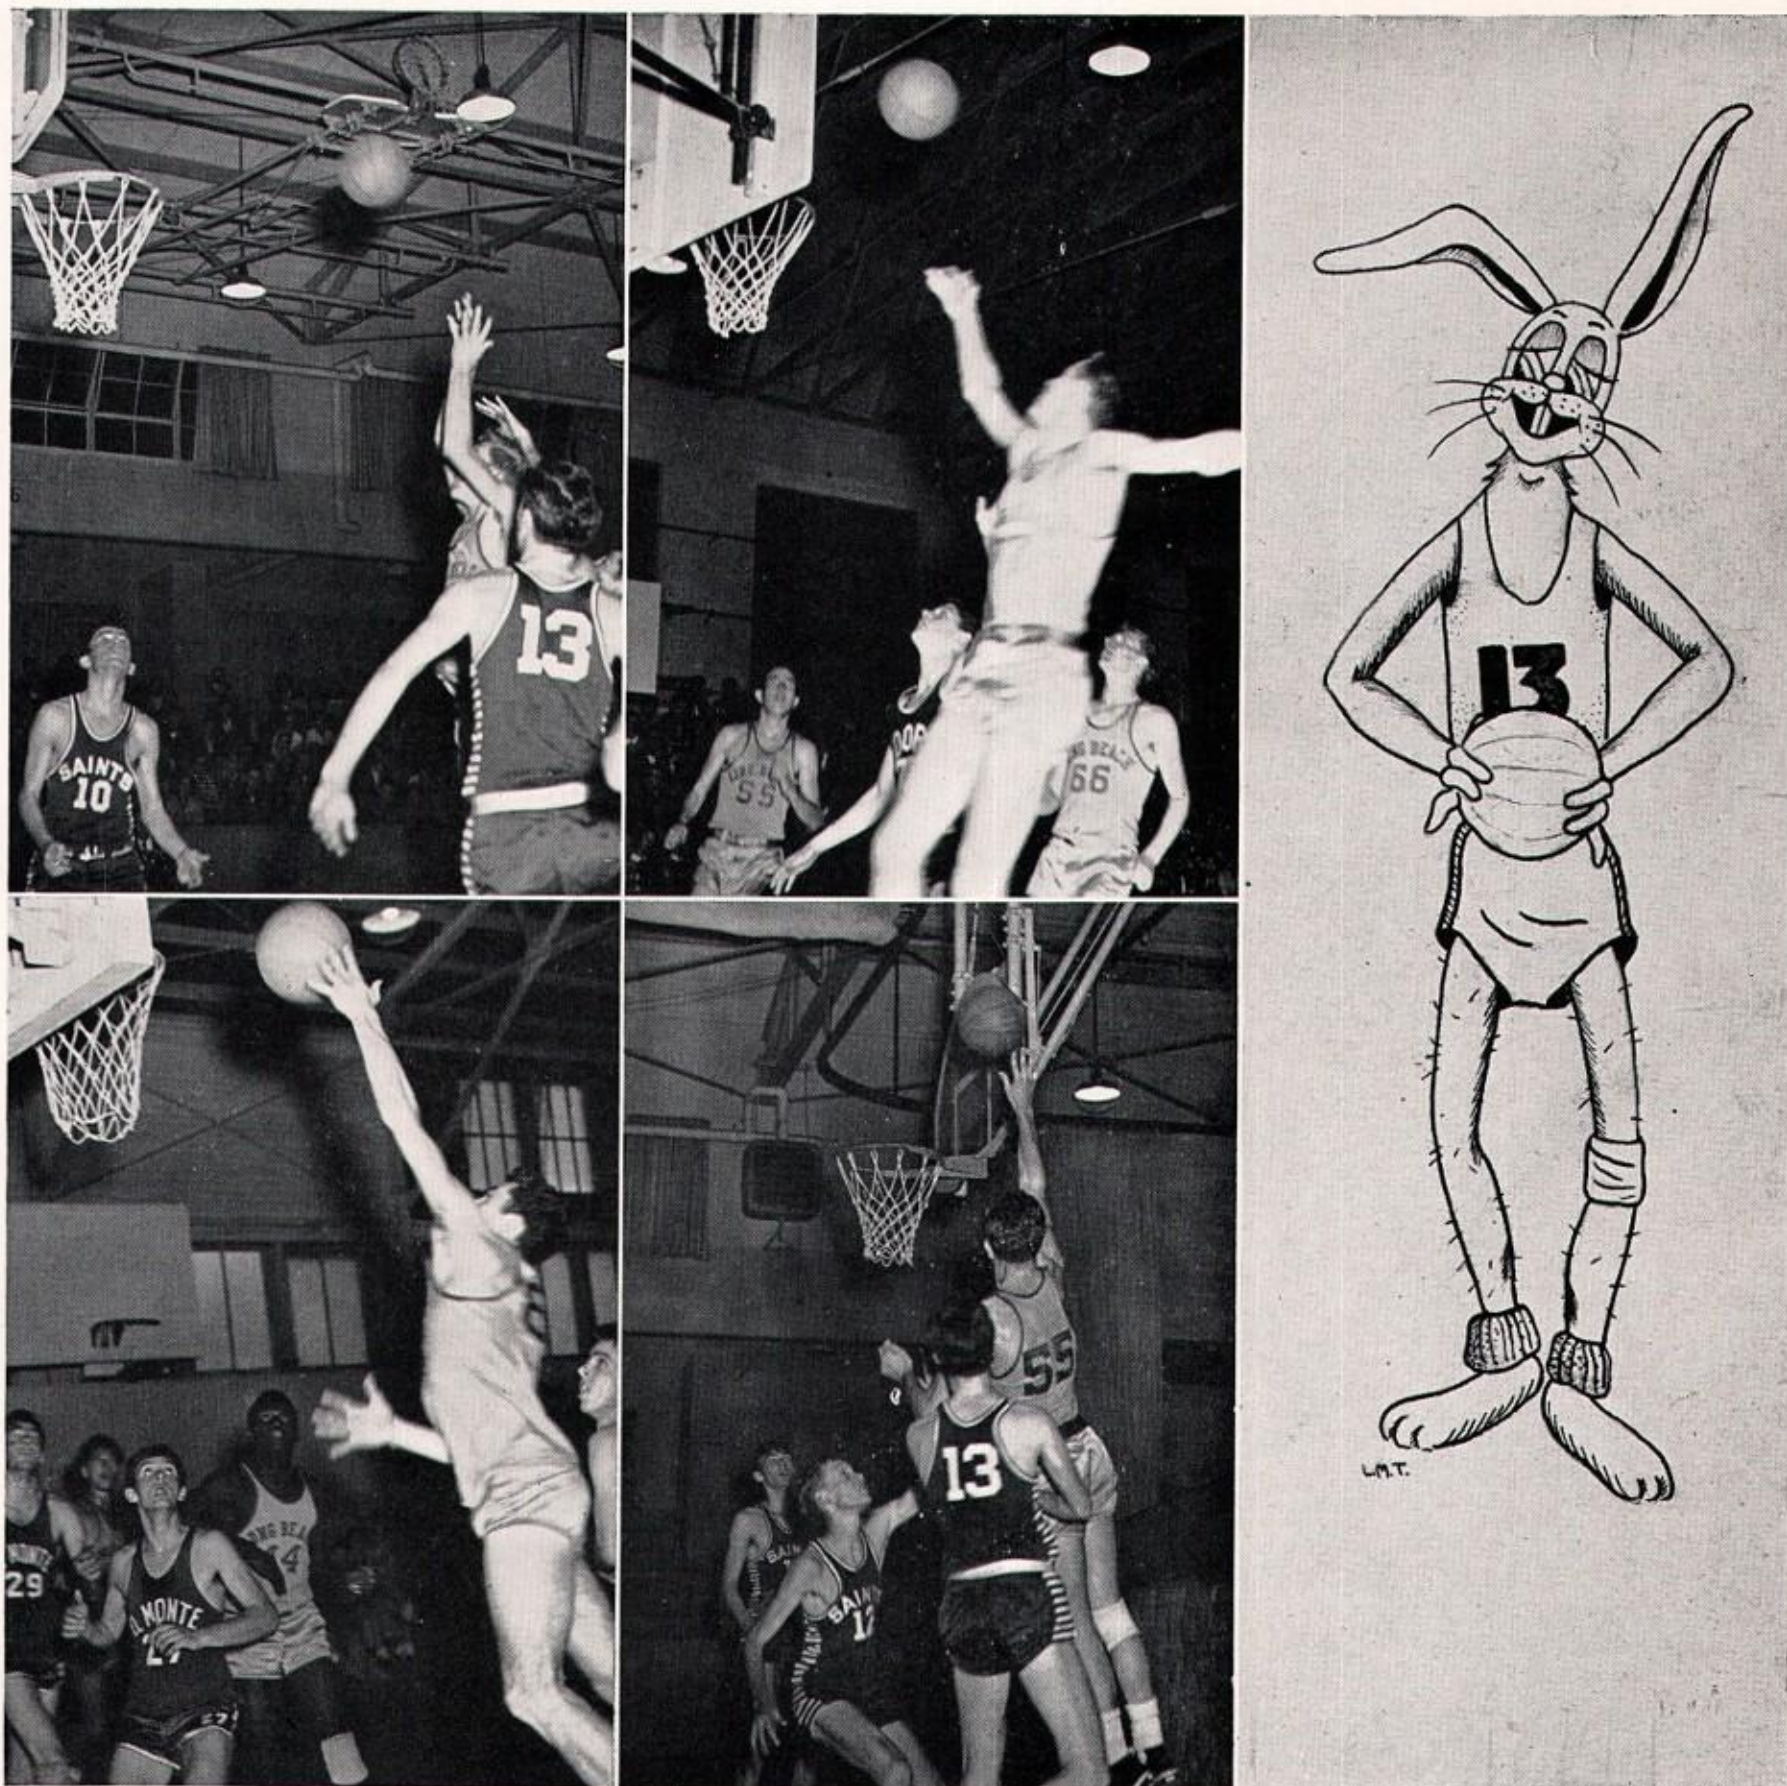

Finishing one of the finest seasons in several years, the Poly cagers landed a third place berth in the Pacific League, which is one of the best in high school basketball. The veteran aggregation was made up of forwards, Rudy Phillips and Mickey Silvernail; center, Wayne Boyce; and guard, Clarence Smith. Under the able captainship of guard Bob Seymour, they had a winning streak of 10 games before losing to Mark Keppel; but went on to win 19 out of 23 games. They finished the season setting a new Poly-Wilson record by defeating the hapless Bruins 60-42. The local boys dominated the All-City team by placing five men on the two strings.

Varsity Baseball

Starting out in true Jackrabbit fashion, Coach Lyle Kinnear's varsity baseballers finished in second place at the end of the first round of loop play. Throughout the season the Hares suffered noticeably due to the loss of key players. Sophomore pitcher, Phil Baker, ace southpaw, showed great promise of things to come as he won the majority of games he pitched.

Other outstanding players for the Hare nine were, catcher Jim Kelley; centerfielder, Loren Hilf; and second baseman, Jim Hanson.

JV Baseball

In the midst of a terrific battle for the league championship, the Poly High Jackrabbit baseball squad, at the end of the first round, won all but one league game. Chief stumbling block in the way of the Hares' title hopes is powerful Wilson, defending circuit champions.

Leading the league at the end of the first round, Coach Joe Kielb's JV horsehiders are the defending loop titlists. Squad members are gaining valuable experience this year for future play on the varsity nine.

Underclassmen

Now that their first year at Poly is over, the Sophomores feel that they have had a hand in keeping our Ship of State on her course. They have caught the spirit of Poly which they shall hold high both in victory and defeat.

The Juniors proudly prepare to take their places to guide our craft. They have stood watches and taken their turn at the wheel. Now they look forward with eagerness to the future and their big adventure, graduation.

Sophomores Climb Higher

Each year the Sophomores elect from their class outstanding students to represent them in school government. These representatives under the direction of their sponsor, Mr. Kielb, plan and execute the activities of their class at Poly.

This year the Sophomores had one of the best talent shows ever presented. Nancy Brooks, a young vocalist, took top honors in the program.

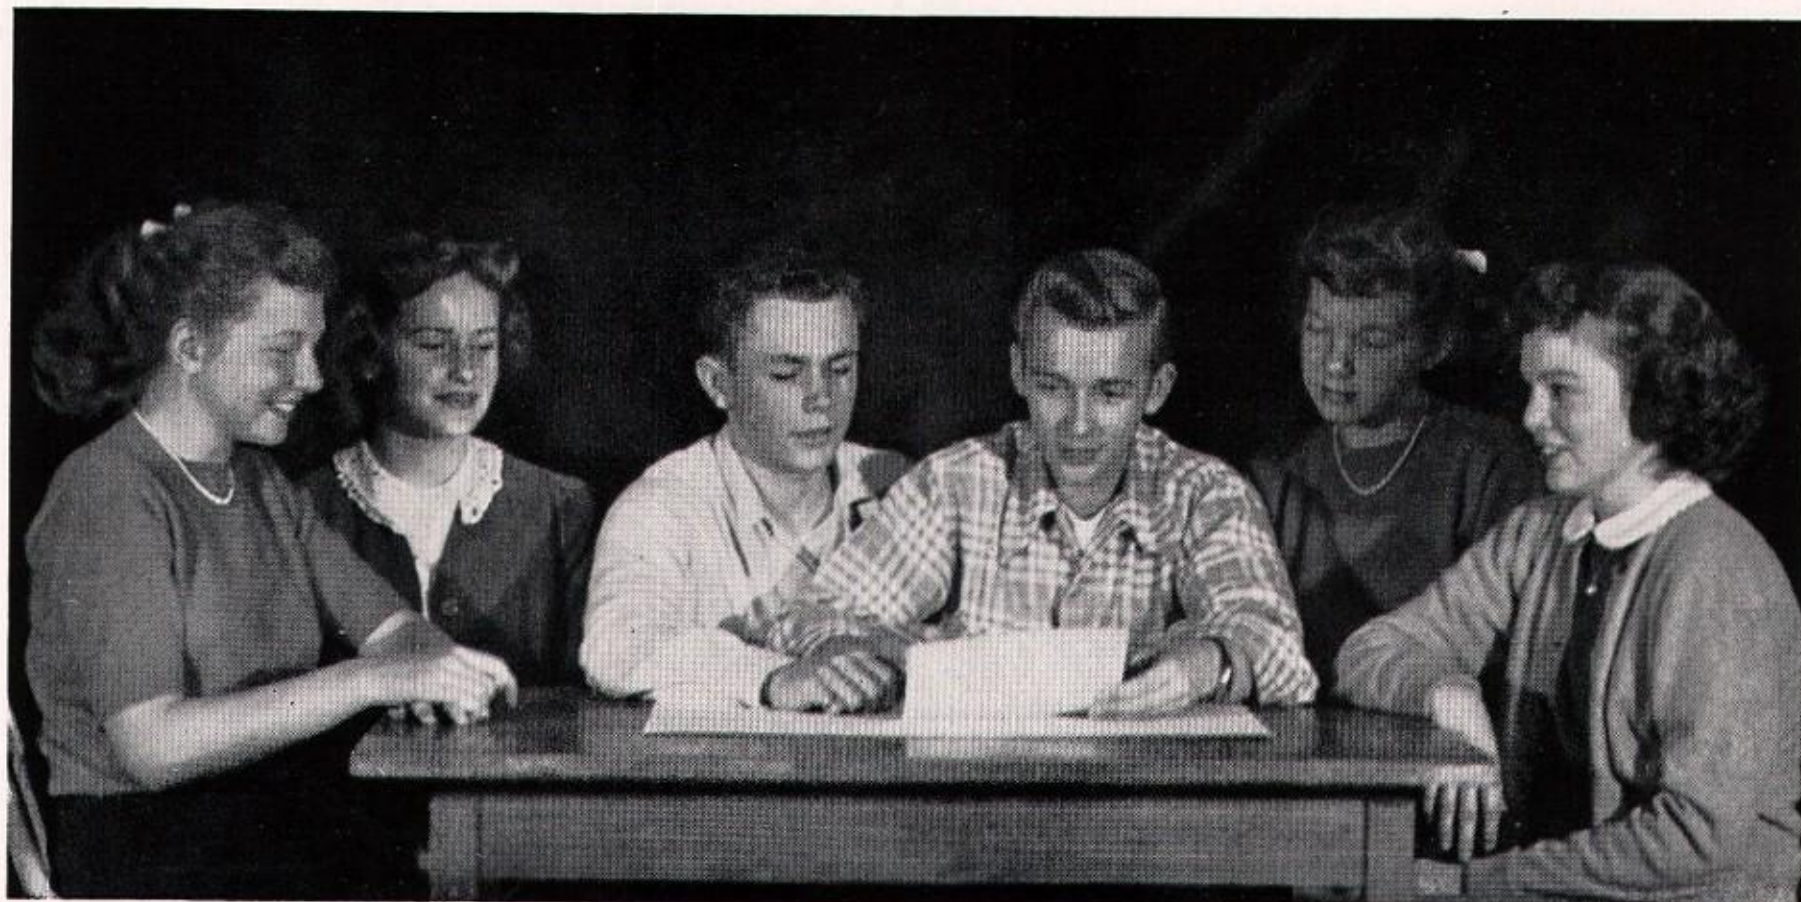

The Hutch, one of the biggest social interests at Poly, has been heartily supported by the Sophomores. Chuck Loudon, a fine example of a Sophomore officer, is President of Hutch this year. Along with his fellow students, Chuck has done an outstanding job in promoting Hutch activities.

Other officers have backed school activities. Duane Stanfield, second semester president, was active in the Keep Kampus Klean contest and other Poly activities. We are sure that this year's Sophomore Class will be an even better Junior Class next year.

Sophomore Leaders . . .

This year's Sophomores show promise of being a great class. They have taken an active part in school activities, and there are many Sophomores in the Scholarship Society. Their aim is to keep their desires of achievement high but nevertheless attainable. This is their first year in senior high school, and among them are students who can capably lead them until they have graduated.

Junior Leaders . . .

Poly's Junior class has completed a successful year with outstanding students in all fields. Many members have ranked high in sports, in student affairs, and in the social life of the school. Members of the class will be remembered for their excellent participation in public speaking events. The record of this present class justifies us in saying they will not fail in their obligations of leadership. They are no longer underclassmen; they are ready to assume the responsibilities of seniors. They will do their best to carry on the standards of those whom they follow.

Juniors Proudly Prepare To Take Over the Craft

Upperclassmen

The seniors act as first class seamen of our ship of state. They have completed three adventurous cruises. They have plowed steadily ahead toward the ultimate goal, graduation. Competition was keen but friendly.

The class of 1950 has lived up to the high standards of its predecessors. They have contributed their bit to school activities through sports, dramatics, and club work.

So as we near another of life's ports, goodbyes are in order; and with memories of the life at Poly still invading their thoughts, the seniors pause, look back, and set their sails for other ports of new experiences and opportunities.

Senior History

Three years ago the teachers and upperclassmen of Poly High were much disturbed by the sudden appearance of a host of very small and exceedingly green-looking individuals. After much discussion and by the use of microscopes, it was decided that this new species belonged to the group called sophomores.

Everything might have gone back to normal if the new species had stayed in one place, but they didn't; they most certainly did not. They tormented everyone they contacted. They experimented with English and dabbled in history, and it was incomprehensible to them that so much had happened before their day. In their enthusiasm they decided to take old man geometry apart and see just exactly of what he was made. They discovered such an intricate tangle of squares, hypotenuses and angles that they decided to leave well enough alone.

The counselors and teachers went into deep conference. In spite of all their efforts, nothing stopped these sturdy little individuals. They took root so fast and grew so rapidly that they were soon established in Poly High and were ready to organize into an orderly body.

The year passed quickly, and for the second time our little individuals entered "to learn". By this time they were known as Juniors, and they decided it was their duty to take over the running of Poly High.

Now their final year has arrived. They have at last attained the distinction of seniors. They have reached the end of their high school days and are prepared to meet new challenges.

Poly Library

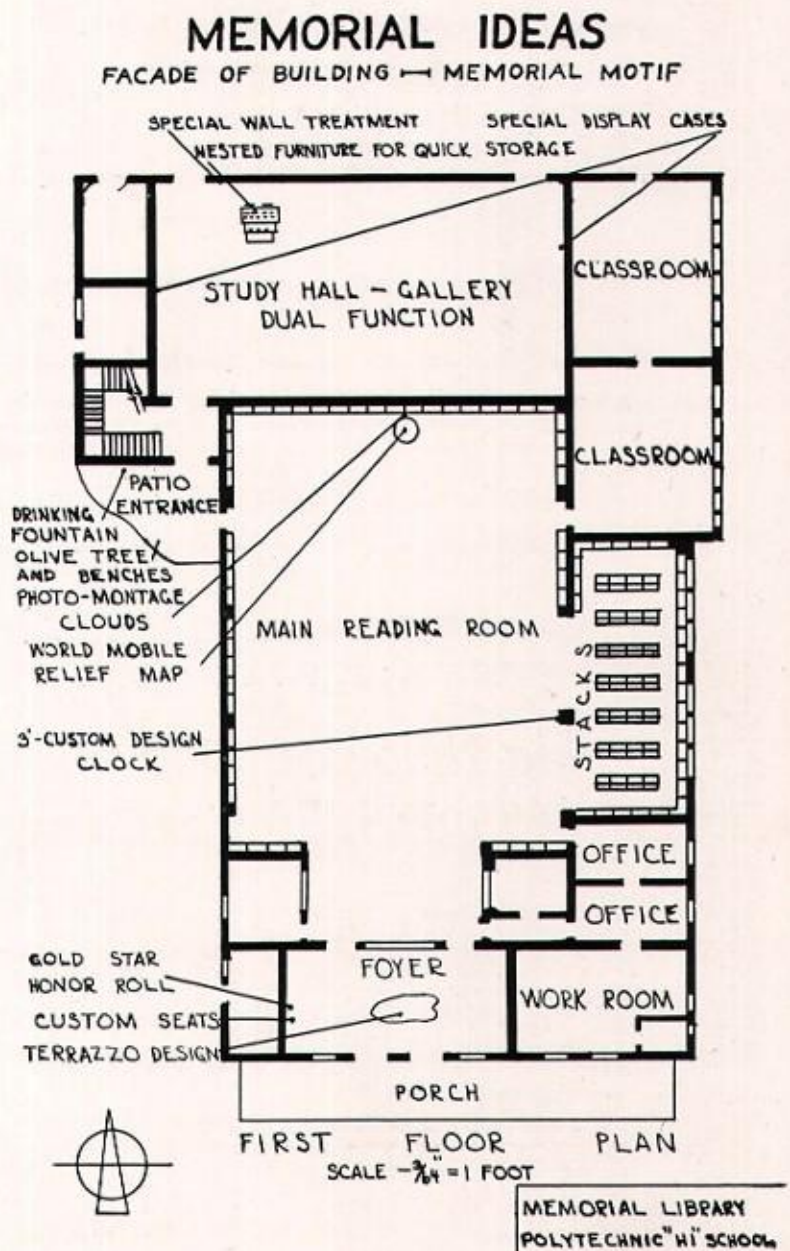

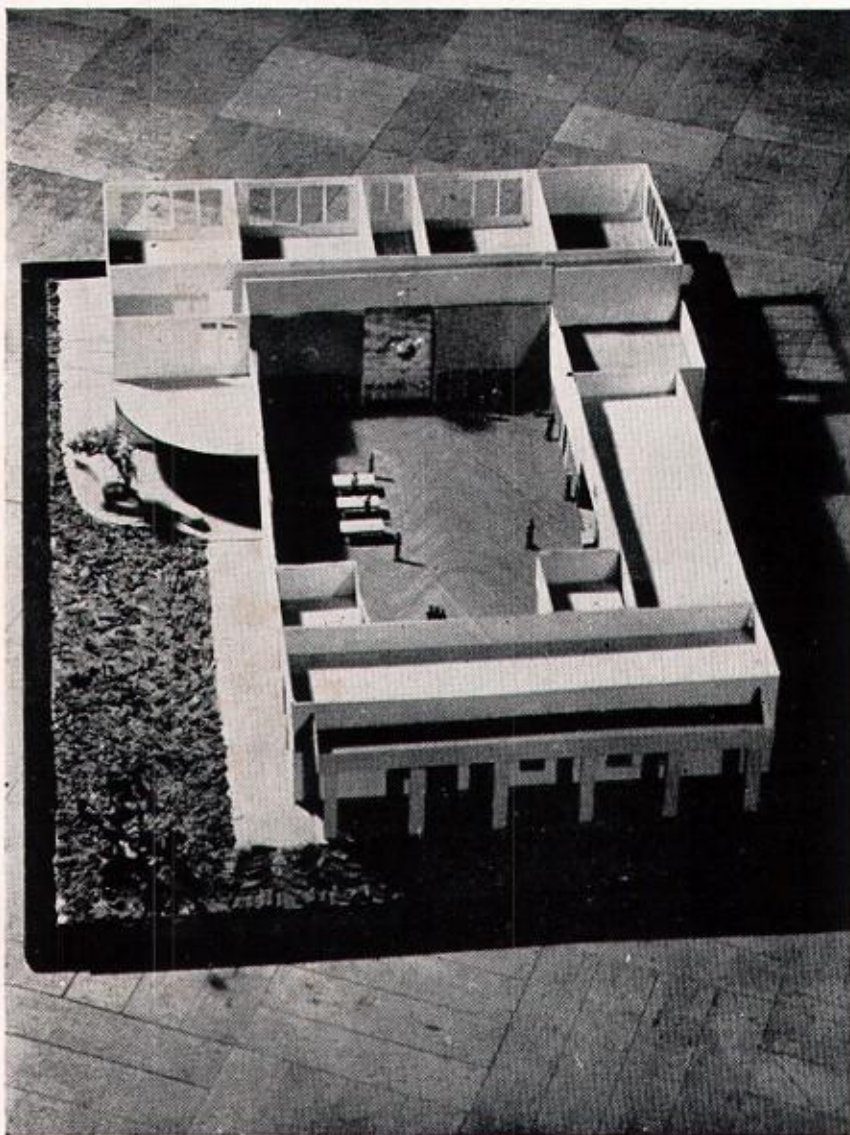

MEMORIAL PLANNING CLASS—ROW I: Downing, Moberly, Peterson, Brocket, Miss Warner (Art Advisor), Rockhold, Bonfield, Harris, Nagel, Jones. ROW II: Miss Fleck (Library Advisor), Blanpea, Martinez, Mowry, Wilson, Wooten, Kruse, Iriye, Mr. Hicks (Sponsor).

The Memorial Libraray will be located on the present print shop site. Poly's Honor Roll will be one of the special features in the memorial foyer. The library itself will contain 25,000 books. The second floor will have a large study hall, two conference rooms, four English classrooms, and a patio.

When completed, Poly will have one of the most beautiful high school libraries in Southern California. The theme of world-wide service and unity will be developed in the form of a plexiglass mobile.

Memorial Library

Acknowledgements

Our Ship of State has reached port, and we have finished our last entry. We have had a year of great adventure in our year book creation. We have experienced a great deal of pleasure which in itself is worth all the time and labor expended. We wish now to express our thanks to those who have helped to make the 1950 Caerulea possible.

We acknowledge with thanks the cooperation of Henderson's Bindery, Arntzen's Photographic Studio, Mr. Leonard E. Graham, Photographer, and Nelson's Engraving Company.

An extra vote of thanks, for their incomparable service, goes to Mr. Adams, Art Advisor; Mr. Meadows, Photography Advisor; Mr. Stribley, Printing Advisor; and Miss Norton, English Advisor.

Lastly to our general advisor, Mr. Claude R. Freeman, goes our message of gratitude for his wonderful cooperation and enthusiasm.

Now we pause a moment in reflection hoping that you will enjoy looking through the pages of your 1950 Caerulea.

The Staff
